

Real Nappy Reward Scheme

Thinking of using real nappies?

In its early years a baby can get through an astounding 5,000 disposable nappies!

Real nappies are a great alternative. These nappies are made from cloth that can be washed and used over and over again.

There are many reasons to consider using real nappies:

The Natural Choice

- Real nappies are available in a variety of natural fibres such as cotton, bamboo and hemp.
- There are no chemicals involved; it's just the natural absorbency of the cloth.

Save Money

- Buying and washing your own nappies can save you over £600 for your first baby compared to the cost of disposables.
- Savings can be even greater if you go on to use the same nappies with a second or third child.

Save the Environment

- 8 million nappies are thrown away in the UK each day.
- Using real nappies you will notice a difference to the amount of waste you throw away compared to using disposables.

Our Real Nappy Reward

The Hertfordshire Waste Partnership would like to thank those Hertfordshire residents who avoid the mountain of waste created through the use of disposable nappies.

As the council has to pay for each tonne of waste sent for disposal we are able to provide up to £50 as a reward for residents using real nappies to reflect the waste they divert.

Please fill in the details on the reverse and return to the recycling department of your local council marked "Real Nappy Reward Scheme". Payments will be made directly into your bank account*. For more details or to find the address of your local council visit www.wasteaware.org.uk or call 0300 1234 051.

This offer only applies to Hertfordshire residents. Only one discount may be claimed per family. The child must be below two years of age.

Waste Aware

The WasteAware campaign, set up by the Hertfordshire Waste Partnership, provides residents with information and advice on waste and recycling issues.
